PROGRAMS

The Center for Working Families: Provides employment assistance, adult education, financial literacy, job market re-entry and income support to help economically fragile families become self-sufficient.

Early childhood and school-age programs: Include child care, camps, organized athletics, a summer teen club and a junior counselor program.

Senior programs: Focus on nutrition, health and wellness, recreation, social activities and economic stability to allow participants to remain active and productive and live independently.

Community engagement: As part of the Near-West Collaborative, the center improves the quality of life of residents in the Hawthorne, Haughville, Stringtown and We Care neighborhoods by focusing on health, safety, housing, economic development, civic engagement and education.

FUNDRAISER

Hawthorne has launched a $3.5 million capital campaign to expand and renovate its main building and make minor renovations to its historic Carnegie Library building. The Ruth Lilly Philanthropic Fund will match $500,000 in pledges and gifts. Indiana Pacer Paul George is the honorary campaign chairman.
